Discussion

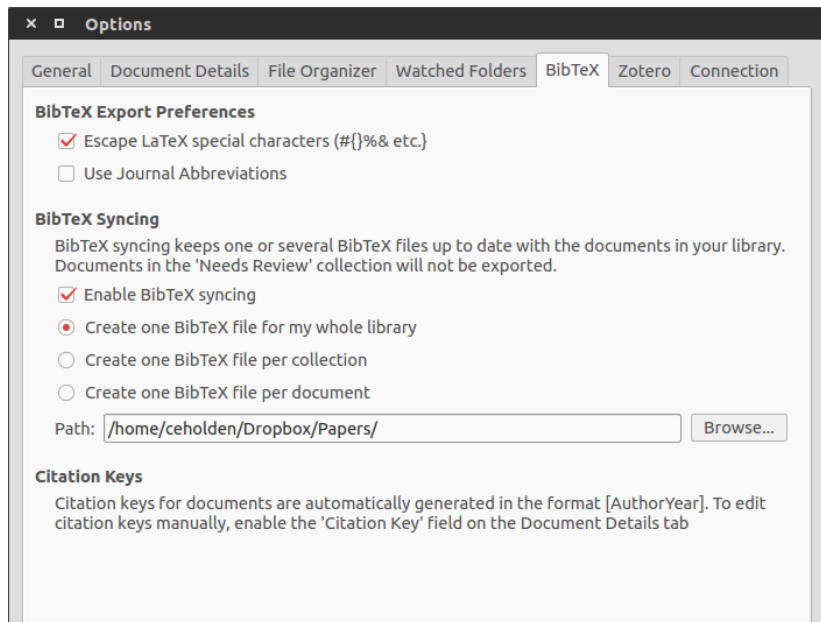

Let's suppose I'm writing a paper and need to cite someone

I can use equations:

$$H_{\text{lore}} = \frac{\sum_{i=1}^N \{BA\}_i h_i}{\sum_{i=1}^N}$$

The image shows a screenshot of the 'Options' dialog box in Zotero, specifically the 'BibTeX' tab. The dialog has a dark title bar with a close button and a maximize button. Below the title bar is a tabbed interface with tabs for 'General', 'Document Details', 'File Organizer', 'Watched Folders', 'BibTeX', 'Zotero', and 'Connection'. The 'BibTeX' tab is currently selected. The main content area is titled 'BibTeX Export Preferences' and contains two sections: 'BibTeX Export Preferences' and 'BibTeX Syncing'. The 'BibTeX Export Preferences' section has two checkboxes: 'Escape LaTeX special characters ({ } % & etc.)' which is checked, and 'Use Journal Abbreviations' which is unchecked. The 'BibTeX Syncing' section has a descriptive paragraph: 'BibTeX syncing keeps one or several BibTeX files up to date with the documents in your library. Documents in the 'Needs Review' collection will not be exported.' Below this are three radio buttons: 'Enable BibTeX syncing' (checked), 'Create one BibTeX file for my whole library' (selected), 'Create one BibTeX file per collection' (unchecked), and 'Create one BibTeX file per document' (unchecked). At the bottom of the syncing section is a 'Path:' label followed by a text input field containing '/home/ceholden/Dropbox/Papers/' and a 'Browse...' button. The final section is 'Citation Keys', which contains a paragraph explaining that citation keys are automatically generated in the format [AuthorYear] and can be manually edited by enabling the 'Citation Key' field on the 'Document Details' tab.
